

COMMUNICATION.

The following is an extract from the eulogy pronounced by the Hon. Joseph Hopkins, upon the Hon. Bushrod Washington.

As containing the avowed sentiments of a Virginian, and a Judge of the United States Supreme Court, it is well worthy the calm and candid consideration of those citizens of Virginia who are so soon to pronounce upon her destinies. The extract alludes to the trial of Gen. Bright, for resisting the execution of a civil process of the Supreme Court of the United States.

"Mark the conduct of Pennsylvania at this unprecedented, trying crisis. Can she recede from her absolute assertion of right? Can she take back her unqualified menace of resistance and promises of protection to her citizens? A Judge, in a weak and helpless individual, supported by no power but the law, pronounced a sentence of criminal confinement upon the assembled representatives of the people—upon their supreme executive authority, upon their legislative and orders the minister of their will, surrounded by a military force and his command, to a common jail. Under this he submitted to with a reverential awe. Not a murmur from the prisoner, not a movement by the people to rescue him from a punishment inflicted upon him, for obeying their mandates, for sustaining their authority, and defending their interests. And why? Because the law had spoken; it was the judgment of the law.

The people were wise and virtuous; they loved their country above all things, and to her they willingly confided their strength, their pride, their promises. A jury instructed and convinced that the supremacy of the law had been violated, gave up their fellow-citizens. What a Judge—how fearless in his duty! What a people—how magnanimous in their submission. How worthy of each other. No proud and passionate assertion of sovereignty; no violent menaces of insulted power; no rebellious defiance of Federal power; no inflammatory combinations to resist it, and to shatter in their madness the beautiful fabric of our Union. In short, no nullification, a new and portentous word. It is only by such efforts of patriotism that this great and growing Republic can be preserved." Judge Hopkins then goes on to say that when a State acknowledges herself bound to the Union, by no ties "but such as she may dissolve at pleasure, we do, indeed, hold our political existence by a most precarious tenure; and the future destinies of our country are as dark and uncertain, as the past has been glorious and happy."

Our Country's Flag.

AIR—STAR SPANGLED BANNER!
Hail! flag of Columbia, whose bright stripes
And stars
Have long o'er the world held the loftiest station.
And soaring in pride o'er the red field of Mars,
Full oft hast thou marked an invincible nation.
O'er mountain and wave, the hearts of the brave
Have swelled as they viewed thee in our eyes.
And nerved by thy signal of liberty's cause,
Have boldly defended our national laws.

Our patriot fathers who gallantly stood,
And sought their defense in the closest communion.
And who from the battle field moistened by blood,
Came forth to establish a permanent Union!
Saw nothing in thee, in this rising scene,
To interfere with the glorious thirteen.
And when thou in the ranks didst stand forth,
An emblem of Union, East, West, South and North.

Then freedom beamed, with a thrill of delight,
Thy magical way in thy glittering splendor;
And many a hero, inspired by the sight,
Has boldly resolved he would never surrender.
For thou didst impart fresh hopes to each heart,
While manfully acting a patriot's part.
As each felt assured that he had won o'er dark
One star from thy bright constellation to rear.

And shall all the glories that circled thy name,
Whenever thy presence invited to action,
Be trampled in dust, and thy towering fame
Lie prostrate, to quiet a turbulent faction?

O, can this ever be, thou flag of the free,
That never again shall be seen in our eyes,
A signal of hope to the exile, as o'er
The storm-girdled waves he is borne to our shores?

Forbid it, kind Heaven! in its memory descend,
To quiet such scenes of this great agitation;
And by thy omphic protection defend
From direful disruption our glorious nation!

Then through our land, one harmonious band
And glad as the angels of heaven,
And disperse an strife shall their clarioning cease,
Beneath the bright wings of the Angel of Peace.

LOCAL ITEMS.

WASHINGTON ITEMS.—The young ladies of Mr. J. S. Halliwell's School, Alexandria, paid a visit to Washington on Tuesday. On visiting the Capitol, they passed through the Hall of Representatives just before the House was called to order, presenting a very beautiful array of beautiful youth and beauty. They remained in the galleries of the House until quite late in the day, and attracted considerable attention as they paced through the Capitol, under the direction of their preceptor.

Col. Peter F. Bacon has been appointed and commissioned as Brigadier General of the militia of the District of Columbia, in place of Gen. E. C. Carrington, who resigned to take command of Company A, Union Regiment.

PUBLIC MEETING.—David Foust, esq., one of the candidates for the State Convention, addressed a large audience last night at Liberty Hall. The conclusion of his speech a protracted series of interrogatories were indulged in by himself and Mr. Fowie, upon the cessation of which the meeting was addressed by C. E. Stuart, esq., who advocated the claims of Mr. Foust.

THE WEATHER.—Yesterday was one of the most inclement days we have had this winter. The ground, early in the morning, was covered with snow and sleet—subsequently, the rain commenced falling heavily. The wind was from the North-East, cold and disagreeable. Out of door business was almost entirely suspended.

ASSESSMENT OF REAL ESTATE.—A large amount of property having changed hands during the preceding year, it would be to the advantage of all persons purchasing or selling real estate, and may use for the same in the county where the slave has been harbored or rescued from the Marshal, and the county may recover the same from the parties engaged in the rescue.

The first and second clauses of the first section of the second article of the Constitution shall be read as follows:

The Executive power shall be vested in a President of the United States of America. The President and Vice President shall hold their offices for the term of six years, and shall be ineligible to the office of President for the ensuing six years after having performed the duties of President, and shall be elected as follows:—The Legislature of each State, at its first session after Federal census, shall divide said State into as many Congressional districts as it shall be entitled to Representatives in Congress, which districts shall be as compact as practicable and nearly equal in population as electors of President and Vice President shall be chosen by the people thereof, having the qualifications requisite for electors of representatives in Congress, and in addition, two electors for the State at large shall be chosen by the members of the Legislature, assembled in joint convention for that purpose, on the day appointed by Congress.

Leonard Scott & Co., New York, have republished the January number of Blackwood's Magazine. It contains articles on the Political Year; Uncle Sam; Embassies to China; the India Civil Service, &c., &c.—a very excellent number. Robt. Bell, Agent.

COMMERCIAL.

Alexandria Market, January 24.

The receipts to-day "Change were fair. In Flour there is a light improvement. In wheat no change. In corn, a moderate request. The transactions in wheat were light. We quote sales of Wheat at prices ranging from 122 to 126, according to quality, and red at 125 to 135, for fair to prime quality. Corn is in light receipt, with a moderate request. Prices are unchanged. Rye and Oats are quiet, and in prices there is no change to note.

New York Cattle Market, Jan. 23.

At market 4,701 Cows, 31 Steers, 261 Veals, 5518 Sheep and Lambs, and 345 Swine. Showing an increase of 724 Cows, 2 Veals, and a decrease of 22 Cows, 417 Sheep and Lambs, and 2517 Swine. The cattle market to-day was again lower. It was a difficult matter to get cows for the very best in the yards—the same that yesterday sold at 94 cents, and last week at 10 cents. The common grade sold at from 67 to 75 cents; medium to good at 81 cents, and prime 9 cents. A few that were extra sold at a shade higher figures. Yesterday several lots of very fine sold at 94 to 10 cents, but none were sold to-day over 90 cents, and very few over 80 cents. Some of the common kinds sold at 50 to 65 cents; one lot of 18 head, 3 and 4 years old steers, sold at $22 each, and then resold at $27.50 each. We quote extra from 4 to 9 cents for a cow, and extra from 10 to 15 cents for a cow, and extra from 16 to 20 cents for a cow, and extra from 21 to 25 cents for a cow, and extra from 26 to 30 cents for
